

Drawing dictation

You think of a picture and you tell exactly what is on the picture. You add colours, sizes and numbers (eg. Three blue fish are swimming in the sea. One is big, one is medium and the last one is small).

This activity is designed to review language structures like prepositions, present (or past) progressive, articles a/an/some, patterns there is/are.

When the pupils are finished, they walk around and compare their drawings.
For homework, they write a short text using "There is / are ...a/an/some."

Idee: Daniele Winkler

Buchtipp:

Dictation: New Methods, New Possibilities (Paperback), Mario Rinvulcri and Paul Davis, CUP